OUR MISSION

Bridge the Gap – SYNGAP Education and Research Foundation is an organization whose mission is to serve, educate and fund research for families coping with the effects of SYNGAP1 mutations. The leading organization is advocating and raising funds for research and treatments for SYNGAP1. Autism and Epilepsy are two of the most predominant symptoms related to a newly found single gene mutation called SYNGAP1. It is one of the top two single gene mutations being researched worldwide linked to Autism. A mutation in the SYNGAP1 gene results in intellectual disability, epilepsy, and a multitude of other comorbidities. 94% - 100% of the SYNGAP1 patients have some form of epilepsy. It also plays a vital role in brain plasticity and may represent one of the most common causes of ID worldwide. Research now shows that SYNGAP1 is also a gene that is possibly linked to overlapping conditions, such as Angelman's Syndrome, Fragile X, and Phelan McDermott Syndrome. Please see our website for our programs including an international registry for SYNGAP1 patients.
